Dear Janie,
I'd love to
see you tomorrow
Hope you can Always come.
A Friend,
Audrey

To "Janie",
It sure has been
swell having you here
as a friend. We have had a lot of fun. Let's keep in touch.
Janie-16h-16h. Stay as sweet as you are and remember
me as the dramatic Lavender Major at Dr. Augustine's (smile)

To Janie,
You are one of my best friends. Always remember the many dreams
that we have had together.

Hi Janie,
Just a few lines
to wish you happiness
and success in whatever
you are aiming for...
(Office, your P.M.) Life in your

stay
Best of luck
Buddy

To Jean
you are a dear friend.
One that I'll always love and admire.

Prior to the development of a functioning writing system, man for many years used pictures and symbols to represent in an explicit manner, his account of events which took place during the course of his life. Although we are blessed with the use of a set of alphabets and other modes of recording our vital data, the use of pictures still has its place.

These photographed impressions of life tell far more than any written word can ever tell; for in them, you may see the depth of a smile or the degree a brow has been stretched to denote a slight mark of discontent.

As you glance over your published paper matter today, it seems to have little essence—but in five, ten, fifteen or perhaps twenty years, think what it will mean to relive those glorious days we spent at our home away from home—ST. AUGUSTINE'S COLLEGE.

The members of the 1961 graduating class have toiled long and hard with a sole goal at heart—that being, the production of a collection of few words and many pictures and as an end product of the goal, we are proud to present this—the 1961 edition of the "FALCON."

DEDICATION

To you, the Coaching Staff, we dedicate the 1961 FALCON because you have worked diligently in the field of sports, health, and physical education. Your devoted interest in all of us as students and players, your ability to inspire, your spirit of congeniality, your personal magnanimity, your untiring efforts to keep St. Augustine's among the best in all areas of sports, for all of these things you have won a perpetual obeisance in our most cherished memories.

Through your help, we have learned how to apply our heads, our hearts, and our hands. For this we are indeed grateful.

December 9, 1960

Dear Senior Class:

As you plan to journey homeward after four years of spiritual and intellectual maturation at Saint Augustine's College, I offer up a prayer that you may continue to grow in wisdom and faith and in love of God and man.

Today's world is one great community. New nations are being born. Persistent demands for equality in all areas of endeavor are being pressed everywhere. Respect for human dignity is the order of the day.

I assume that you have made many sacrifices in order to enhance your chances for success. Remember, therefore, that if you wish success in life, you must make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your wise counselor, caution your elder brother and hope your guardian angel.

Very truly yours,

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Alice H. Jones

Harken to our voices, black ancestors of our past,
Harken and be proud for we are here at last,
Harken, for through us, your dreams are coming true
We've seen all the past has done, now see what we can do.

From homelands fertile, you were torn,
Brought captive to bitter shores;
Where from your muscles, blood, sweat and tears
A gigantic nation was born.

To fear and ignorance you were bound
And shackled to your hue,
Yet, crippled, still you upward climbed
Less than we, unbound can do?

Offspring of your loins, your fears,
Your dreams, your hopes, your pain.
We have a debt of blood to pay
For all your barren years.

Now further upward we can climb,
Your backs our stepping stones,
We've nourished by your blood and tears,
We've supported by your bones.

Yes, harken to our voices,
All black ancestors of our past.
Peace be to your restless bones,
Let your cries cease, at last.
We are rising toward a shining sun,
We are loosening shackling chains.
Fear, here and ignorance are slaughing off,
Only man remains.

Dear Vern

Life hasn't been a ball, at least not all of it. There has been some hard, dark, sad, happy, beautiful and successful days. (this happens in everyone's life at least once). Life has dealt some hard blows, but Vern you took them and lived by your motto "my greatest glory is not in never falling but being able to rise every time I fall." Keep up the good work, Life hasn't let you down yet.

You have met and made many lasting friends (not money wise) some of them have taken advantage of your (always) good nature, you have been deeply hurt in many way by both men & women, you know why; you trust to hard and to complete, you love the same way. This can be your downfall or you reason for discention.

Time and Time again I will remember the struggle and the sacrifice you made and are still making to reach that certain goal (Psychiatric Social Work) Time grows shorter each day (that you go to class). Success has got to be yours. (good things come to those who wait)

Don't work to hard this summer, (not like you did last year, working two jobs). Always remember that when you feel that you don't have a friend in the world (no matter where you are + just call me, I'll come running back to you) the "man" who made you is always at your side. You keep up the good work, strive hard + strive long success is always just around the corner. "Les"
